

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Children.

Mother of many children I pray of my heart and my brain—
And some have been born in gladness And some have been born in pain, But one has gone singing from out my door Never to come again.

Content and Ease and Comfort—they Abled with me day by day; They smooth my couch and place my Chair as dutiful children may,
And Success and Power, my strong-Armed sons,
Stand ever to clear my way.

And these be the prudent children, the Careful children and wise, There was one and only one with a reckless dream in his eyes, He who was one with the wind of the dawn,
And kin to the wood and the skies.

Faithful and fond are my children and They tend me well, in sooth; Success and Content and Power, good proof is mine of their truth, But the name of him that I lost was Jocelyn.

Yes, my first-born Joy of Youth, Well do my children guard me, jealous Of this their right; Carefully, soberly, ever by daylight and candlelight,
But oh, for my precious Joy of Youth Somewhere out in the night!

—Theodosia Garrison, in Smart Set.

Dr. Bryan at Club.

Dr. Robert C. Bryan gave his lecture on "The History of Medicine" yesterday afternoon, before the members of the Woman's Club.

Added to the members of the club were a number of the lecturer's friends and out-of-town guests, who made a noticeable element in a very deeply interested and attentive audience.

Dr. Bryan went back to the earliest days of medicine and traced the history of the healing art by successive gradations down to the time when general practitioners first made their appearance and the art which now has such a broad and philanthropic scope, began really to take definite shape and form.

Coming down to the present Dr. Bryan said it would be hard to foretell the limitations of the future developments of medicine and surgery, rendered more powerful as they constantly are, by new scientific discoveries and inventions.

The lecture was well delivered and abounded in interesting points and instructive information. A reception followed at its conclusion, and a social hour that was extremely pleasant for all present.

Annual Commencement.

Invitations have been issued by the faculty and students of Woman's College for their fifty-second annual commencement, beginning June first, and ending June fifth.

The exercises begin Friday evening with the annual concert to be given in the college chapel at 8:30 o'clock. Saturday evening, June second, the art exhibit and the reception by the art class will be held in the college chapel at the same hour. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached in the Second Baptist Church Sunday evening, June third, by the Rev.
W. H. Savage, D. D., of Churchland, Va.

Class Day celebration is scheduled for Monday, June fifth, at 11 A. M., in the college chapel.

Tuesday morning, June fifth, at 11 o'clock, the closing exercises of the preparatory department will be held, and Tuesday evening, June fifth, at 8:30 o'clock, the baccalaureate address, the conferring of degrees and diplomas will take place at the Academy of Music. The Rev. W. J.
Young, D. D., will deliver the address.

At Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Straus, of No. 1101 West Avenue, will be at home in the evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Alfred S. Kraker, of Colorado Springs, Tuesday, May 29th, from 8:30 to 11 P. M.

Club Reception.

On Thursday afternoon, May 24th, from 8 to 9 o'clock, the Hermitage Golf Club will give an informal reception. A band will play throughout the evening, and delicious refreshments will be served on the lawn. The most interesting feature of the evening will be the final play in the tennis tournament for the cup.

Worship—Heckler.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Heckler have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Ruby, to Mr. Charles Edward Worship. The ceremony will be performed in the home of the bride at 11 p.m., No. 132 North Twenty-fifth Street.

She Quit Coffee

But it was a hard pull.

It is hard to believe that coffee will put a person in such condition as it did a woman of Apple Creek, O. She tells her own story:

"I did not believe coffee caused my trouble, and frequently said I liked it so well I would not quit drinking it, even if I thought I could not endure it. For months I never went to bed expecting to get up in the morning. I felt as though I was liable to die any time during the night."

"Frequently I had nervous chills and the least excitement would drive sleep away, and any little noise would upset me terribly. I was gradually getting worse until finally one day it came over me and I asked myself what is the use of being sick all the time and buying medicine so that I could indulge myself in coffee?"

"So I thought I would see if I could quit drinking coffee, and got some Postum Food Coffee to help me quit. I made it strictly according to directions, and I want to tell you that change was the greatest step in my life. It was easy to quit coffee, because I had the Postum which I like better than I liked the old coffee. One by one the old troubles left, until now I am in splendid health, nerves steady, heart all right, and the pain all gone. Never have any more nervous chills, don't take any medicine, can do all my housework, and have done a great deal besides."

"My sister-in-law, who visited me this summer, had been an invalid for some time, much as I was. I got her to quit coffee and drink Postum. She gained five pounds in three weeks, and I never saw such a change in any one's health."

"There's a reason."

Poems You Ought to Know.

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Prof. Charles Eliot

TO A NIGHTINGALE.

By WILLIAM DRUMMOND.

William Drummond, the distinguished Scotch poet, was born at Hawthornden House, near Edinburgh, December 18, 1595, and died there December 4, 1642. He was educated at the University of Edinburgh, and returning to his romantic seat of Hawthornden, gave himself up to the cultivation of poetry and polite literature. His sonnets are replete with tenderness and delicacy.

SWEET bird, that sing'st away the early hours Of winters past, or coming, void of care, Well pleased with delights which present are,
Fair seasons, budding sprays, sweet-smelling flow'rs:
To rocks, to springs, to rills, from heavy bow'rs Thou thy Creator's goodness dost declare, And what dear gifts on thee he did not spare, A stain to human sense in sin that low'rs, What soul can be so sick, which by thy songs (Attired in sweetest melody is not driven Quite to forget earth's turmoil, evil, and wrongs, And lift a reverend eye and thought to heaven?) Sweet, artless songster, thou my mind dost raise To airs of spheres, yes, and to angels' lays.

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 11, 1902. One is published each day.

Tuesday evening, June 5th, at half-past 7 o'clock.

MAKES HIS ESCAPE.

Negro Prisoner Gains Freedom
After Exciting Chase.

There was lots of excitement yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock when William "Kneebone" Brown, a negro, bolted from Court Collier's building, as the latter was placing the first bunch of prisoners, of whom Brown was one, into the patrol to be taken to the city jail. Just as the fleeing man turned the corner of Broad and Eleventh in front of Ford's Hotel, Officer Robins turned and saw the negro, and forthwith pulled his gun and let fly a crack shot. But "Kneebone" would not down, and in spite of the hundred or so pussers that gathered hot on his trail he made good his escape.

The negro was in the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of beating Lucy Parker and for being a suspicious character. He was put under a $500 bond for twelve months, and in default of same he was sent on to the city jail for safekeeping.

PREPARING FOR TRIP.

Former Governor Montague Con-fering With State Department.

Former Governor Montague left yesterday for Washington, where he went to confer with the State Department concerning his duties on the Pan-American commission, to which he was recently appointed by the President.

Mr. Montague will probably be at the national capital for several days. It is not known whether this is a general conference of the commission or whether the Virginia member went alone to confer with Secretary Root.

Mr. Montague, it is understood, is arranging to take his three children with him to Rio at his own expense. Mrs.
Montague will also accompany her husband, but the government defrays the expenses of the commissioners and their wives.

Firm Changes Name.

Mr. S. A. Howard, of the firm of Sampson and Howard, general agents for the Home Life Insurance Company, of New York, has taken the position of superintendent of the same company for the three States of Virginia and the Carolinas.

The firm of Sampson and Howard will from now on be known as Sampson and Shield, Mr. R. S. Shield, who has been the company's superintendent of agents, having taken Mr. Howard's place. Mr.
Howard will remain in the same office.

Mr. Kezell at Capitol.

Senator George B. Kezell, of Rockingham, is in the city on private business.
He was a caller yesterday on Governor Swanson and the Corporation Commission. The senator said he thought the new oyster navy flagship would be ready for use by July, and that the next meeting of the Board of Fisheries would probably be held upon it.

Putting Up the Stand.

Carpenters are busy erecting a stand on the Capitol Square in front of the Smith monument for the purpose of the upcoming ceremonies will take place tomorrow.

The stand is just to the south of and directly facing the monument.

Going to Woodstock.

The members of the State Corporation Commission will go to Woodstock this week and will at Thursday to hear the complaints of citizens of Strasburg, who desire to compel the Winchester and Strasburg Railroad Company to operate their passenger trains as far as Strasburg. The hearing will probably consume all of one day and possibly go over.

Funds for the Church.

At the Cathedral Sunday a collection was taken up at all the churches for the benefit of the new Catholic Church. The Keyser, W. Va. Rev. Father O'Hara, who is the pastor of the new church, preached at the 10:30 o'clock service Sunday morning, and made an appeal for his church. Mr. Thomas P. Ryan gave $5.00 toward the fund, but the pastor is anxious to obtain about $7,000 more.

Leave for Germany.

Mrs. Kate Lindner, wife of Mr. Max F.
Lindner, the artist, left yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock with her two youngest children for Baltimore, where she sells for Germany to-morrow on the "Queenian." She will visit friends in Europe and be gone about eight months.

Mr. Meagher Goes to Utah.

Mr. A. Charles Meagher, accompanied by his wife, left Richmond a day or two ago to accept a position in Salt Lake City. Mr. Meagher is an expert draughts-man, and previous to going into business for himself was connected with the Trigg shipyard.

CAN RED-HEADED MEN LOOK A "CUSS" WORD?

Important Point Raised in Police Court Yesterday By Captain Guigon.

A very interesting and at times amusing case was in Police Court yesterday morning, when D. R. Chappell, motor-man for the Passenger and Motor Company, was charged with swearing at Officer Schliet. The offense is alleged to have been committed while the motorman was on his car near Sixth and Broad Streets. Chappell was convicted and fined $10. An appeal was at once taken by Captain Guigon, attorney for the company.

Patrolman Schliet, in citizen's clothes, Sunday arrested a small white boy for stealing a copy of The Times-Dispatch from a door. The boy was scuffling to free himself from the officer's grasp, and had to be held tightly. Broad and Main Street car No. 27, in charge of Motor-man Chappell, was passing town Broad Street near Sixth at the time, and the motorman thought that Officer Schliet was choking the boy.

He brought his car to a standstill and yelled to the officer to stop choking the boy. Mr. Schliet walked out to the car and showed his badge, and told the motorman that he had not choked the boy. He also told him to attend to his own affairs, or he would be arrested.

According to the testimony of the officer, substantiated by two other officers and two citizens, Motorman Chappell ripped out an oath as he started his car.
His words were heard by the patrolman. Officer Schliet at once took the number of the car and the charge followed.

In Police Court yesterday morning Captain Guigon appeared for the motor-man. The conductor and another witness testified that the motorman did not use the language attributed to him and Chappell denied emphatically that he had said any such things.

In his argument Captain Guigon said that he did not believe that any man would intentionally mislead the court and that both sides were evidently sincere in what they said, but that a mistake existed. He did not think that the case had been proven beyond a peradventure of a doubt and for this reason thought the motorman should be given the benefit.

"Mr. Chappell, as you will notice, has red hair and when red-haired men get mad they look madder than anybody else in the world. It may be that my friend, Officer Schliet, thought he heard the oath when he looked at the red hair.
Actions speak and maybe this man's actions swore," said the attorney.

Justice Crutchfield couldn't see it in that light and imposed the fine, and the appeal was taken.
